History

The Korean Women's Development Institute(KWDI) was established to carry out comprehensive research on women's issues, develop women's policies and women's abilities and increase women's social participation and welfare so as to contribute to women's development and to national development.

HISTORY

- Dec. 1982 The KWDI Act was passed by the National Assembly. It owes its passage to the U.N. Declaration of International Women's Year (1975), the U. N. Decade for Women (1976-1985), and Korean women who shared the worldwide recognition that women's full and equal participation is essential to the world's development and peace.
- Apr. 1983 The KWDI was established under the Ministry of Health and Welfare as a national machinery to deal exclusively with women's affairs.
- Apr. 1991 According to a regulation concerning the commission and regulation of administrative authority, the authority to supervise and coordinate the tasks of the KWDI was transferred to the Ministry of Political Affairs.
- Feb. 1998 Due to government restructuring policy, the KWDI was put under the umbrella of the Presidential Commission on Women's Affairs.
- Jan. 1999 The "Act on the Establishment, Management and Promotion of Government Sponsored Research Institutes" was enacted and the KWDI was placed in the Korea Council of Humanities and Social Research Institute under the Office of the Prime Minister.
- May. 2005 KWDI was replaced under the supervision of the National Research Council for Economic, Humanities and Social Sciences.
- Nov. 2006 KWDI held its CI (corporate identity) declaration ceremony in order to take a leap as a world-famous women's policy research institute.
- May. 2007 2007.05.13 Kim Kyung-Ai takes office as 11th President of KWDI

Users' Guide

1. Most of the statistics in this booklet are extracted from Gender Statistics in Korea 2009 published by KWDI and are amended when necessary.
2. There are some cases that the sum of individual statistics is different from its grand total due to rounding off, missing data, or unknown figures.
3. This booklet is published based on available statistics by December 2009. If there are statistics regularly published that cannot be collected in the present due to the above time limit of this booklet, it includes recently provided statistics regarding figures' timeliness.
4. Signs used in this booklet are as follows:
 - : Unknown figure
 - 0 : Figure below unit of statistical analysis
 - : No figure
5. Not all the graphic charts of this booklet exactly reflect specific statistics of corresponding tables since presented graphic charts are produced based on selected statistics within the tables.
6. If you have any queries for Korean gender statistics, please do not hesitate to visit KWDI's Gender Statistics Information System webpage.
